SUIT FOR HEAVY DAMAGES

J. T. Reese Wants the Union Pacific Railroad Company to Pay Him $50,000—Criminal Cases Docketed for Trial.

BUTTE, April 28.—Attorney Haldorn leaves to-morrow for Helena to appear in a $50,000 damage suit against the Union Pacific railroad company, which comes up before the United States circuit court. The plaintiff in the case is J. T. Reese. On Dec. 20, 1887, at Cheyenne, Wyo., he attempted to get on a car which was standing in the railroad yard when a train suddenly backed up without warning and knocked him off. He sustained two fractures of one arm and the arm had to be amputated. A trial of the case was had in the circuit court at Helena last December, but the jury disagreed, standing 11 to 1 for awarding Reese $14,500 damages. The new trial will commence on Monday and will probably last the greater part of the week. Mr. Haldorn also appears for the defendants in the appeal case of Charles O'Donnell against Bennett Brothers, which comes up in the state supreme court on Saturday. O'Donnell sued for $1,000 alleged to be due him from Bennett Brothers for work done at logging in the Fleece mountain in 1887, before he commenced the practice of law. The trial in the district court resulted in favor of the defendants and Mr. O'Donnell took an appeal.

The Criminal Court.

On the weekly call of the calendar by Judge Pemberton this morning the following criminal cases were set for trial: Joseph Lawrence, burglary in the second degree, Monday, May 2; W. H. Collier, Ben James, S. W. Bradley, appeals from justice courts, Tuesday; Jacob Zuckman, for disturbing the peace of a family, Wednesday; Joseph Ross, assault with intent to kill, Friday.

No other criminal cases were ready for trial, but the assistant prosecuting attorney informed the court that there were a number of prisoners in jail against whom informations had not yet been filed, and the court said that some measures would have to be taken to compel the filing of informations, and ordered that they be ready by Monday, when the calendar would be called again.

The appeal case of the state against J. B. Robinson was set for trial today, but the defendant, who was taken to court, the case was dismissed and the bail bond declared forfeited.

On motion of the assistant prosecuting attorney the appeal case against Louis Kauffman was dismissed and his bail exonerated on the ground that it was an error to begin criminal proceedings against him, and should have been a civil proceeding between the parties interested. The case against Abe Harris, for receiving stolen property, was also dismissed.

The case of the state against Edward Ayers, an appeal in the Salvation trouble between Ayers and his wife, was called up, but the papers were missing and the case was passed for the present.

Bail Forfeited.

Charles McHugh, who was indicted by the United States grand jury for taking a newspaper from a street mail box at the corner of Main and Park several months ago, is among the missing. When he was called upon to plead in the United States court at Helena yesterday he did not respond and his bond was declared forfeited, and a bench warrant issued for his arrest. He was out on $500 bail furnished by himself.

In Department 1.

Judge McElhatton this morning handed down a decision in the case of the Montana Line & Flux company against Isaac Bechtel, and found, as a fact of law, that all the material allegations of the complaint are true, and as conclusions of law that the plaintiff is entitled to a judgment for $26.25, and a decree foreclosing its lien against the Clarence hotel property. The defendant took exception to the findings, E. F. Dunkel, one of the defendants in the case of George Casey et al. against Theophile Thielge, filed an answer to-day denying the plaintiff's title to the property in controversy.

The case of D. McGregor against D. McGregor, which was set for trial to-day, was, on motion, continued until May 10.

Two cases of Charles C. Rueger et al. vs. H. H. Horst et al. were continued until May 24.

"The entire day was taken up with the trial of the case of Andrew Rodoni against Constable Layle, for the possession of some property claimed to have been wrongfully attached by the officer. The jury this evening brought in a sealed verdict."

WILL DEFEND HIMSELF.

Jailor Vanston Wants to Know Who Made the Errors in His Books.

BUTTE, April 28.—Jailor Tom Vanston isn't going to let the matter of his reputation for honesty go by default on the decision of the police commission.

"I know I am innocent," he said, to-day, "I have turned over every cent received to the proper parties, and I have made no errors on the books. All the money I have and all the money I can raise will be expended in trying to find out who the guilty parties are, and in exonerating myself. I don't intend to be made the scapegoat for the offenses of somebody else."

For a Scandinavian Church.

BUTTE, April 28.—Rev. C. J. Larsen of Seattle, district superintendent of the Scandinavian church, and Rev. C. Erickson, the local pastor, whose efforts to organize a Scandinavian M. E. church in Butte, have been crowned with gratifying success, are now out soliciting subscriptions for a church building. They are meeting with as good success in this work as in their efforts to form a congregation and they expect to have the requisite amount raised in about a week. The first three men called upon to-day put their names down for a total subscription of $1,200. The church will cost between $4,000 and $5,000 and it is expected that work on it will be commenced in about three weeks. It will be a neat frame structure of sufficient size to accommodate a large congregation.

AT WALKERVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Holland Entertain Their Friends The County Squad.

WALKERVILLE, April 28.—Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Holland entertained a number of their friends at the Walker house last evening in honor of Will McGee of Hancock, Mich., who is spending a week here on a visit to his brother and other friends. The evening was spent at cards and in social conversation. At midnight a lunch was served in the dining room, which was handsomely decorated with bunting and flowers. The spread was elaborate. Everything from champagne to celery, including seasonal fruits and the choicest kinds of confectionery, was to be found on the table.

Mayor Hall in a fitting manner proposed a toast to the health of the host and hostess, which was most heartily responded to, after which the company returned to the spacious parlor where a musical treat was in store for them, the performers being the Misses McArthur, Pace, Aggie Holland and Mrs. B. C. Leyson. As souvenirs cut flowers of all the different varieties imaginable had been provided. Following is a list of the invited guests: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Leyson, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Waisman, Mr. and Mrs. Stanbury, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Mullins, the Misses Summers, Pace, Mullins, Lizze and Minnie McArthur, Robinson, Holland, Bell and Mary Tague, McAdams; the Messrs. S. Hall, Will and Charles McGee, Williams, Connors, Sleno, Harrison, Waisman, McDonald, Holland and O'Brien.

Mr. McGee leaves for his home in the East on Friday, but expects to return and take up his permanent abode in Walkerville.

Attorney Emmet Clark commenced suit against the county of Silver Bow to-day in Judge Arnold's court at the instance of William Burton and Dennis Doyle, two boys who were held in the county jail during June and July, 1891, as witnesses in the case of the state vs. two men named Dumont and Claremont, who were charged with burglary. The boys were in jail for about 50 days, and on the day of trial appeared in court and gave their evidence against both men. When they demanded their witness fees, the court ruled that they should receive pay for five days and no more, as at the end of five days their deposition should have been taken and the boys released, and the court would not put costs on the county for the negligence of its officers.

The boys allege in their complaint that $2.40 a day is reasonable fees after allowing the sheriff 60 cents a day for their support.

They Have the Check.

BUTTE, April 28.—Cassidy Bros., who conduct a saloon at the corner of Main and Mercury streets, were made the victims to-day of one of the most barefaced and clever forgeries that has come to light in a long while. Luckily for themselves the amount out of which they were defrauded was small, being only $5. This morning a man who gave his name as H. M. Anderson asked the bar tender to cash a check for him. The check, which was payable to the Silver Bow National bank, was made payable to Anderson, or bearer, and was signed by J. C. Craig. It was dated April 27, 1892, but the date was not noticed until after the fellow had obtained the money and disappeared.

In Police Court.

BUTTE, April 28.—Guy Rigby, F. Dixon, F. C. Ritten, J. M. Dixon and J. C. Keller, all "hobos," were arraigned in police court to-day on a charge of vagrancy. They pleaded not guilty and will be tried to-morrow. Tom Kelly was committed for 10 days as a vagrant and drunkard. James Pender and F. Hillman paid $5 and costs each for committing nuisances. Lucy Black and Grace Williams were fined $1 and costs each for drunkenness, and Frank Shaw and Frank Coyne were sent up for a like offense. For stealing a pair of shoes Joe Murphy was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, and P. V. Brennan paid $5 and costs for using abusive language.

Deaths of Mrs. Mumme.

BUTTE, April 28.—Mrs. Joseph Mumme died last night from pneumonia at the residence of her brother, Jacob Suenk, corner of Trezona and Washington streets. Mrs. Mumme lived at Zion's Grove, Schuyler county, Pa., and came here April 16 to visit her brother and also her sons, John and William Mumme. She was 43 years of age, and leaves a husband and two children in addition to the two here. The funeral will take place from the residence of Jacob Suenk at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Copper Market.

From the Engineering and Mining Journal, April 28.

The demand for copper has fallen off somewhat this week, and the business done was much smaller than for the last six weeks or so. Consumers are now rather well supplied, and first hands sticking out for high prices no impetus has been given to trading. Besides, the reopening of navigation is now close at hand, and the first shipments are awaited impatiently, being expected to arrive at point of consumption toward the middle of May. There is continually a very large demand for wire bars, and for spot delivery rather a large premium could be obtained, and even for shipment promptly upon the opening of navigation, prices can be realized that are somewhat higher than for other forms of Lake. A few days ago some sales of wire bars were made at 12 1/2 cents, but since then there have been no buyers above 12 cents. For casting copper there has been, if anything, a better inquiry, and prices are steady at about 11 3/4 to 11 1/2 cents. We have not heard of any business in Arizona pig copper.

On the 18th a report appeared in the papers that the upper works of the Anaconda had closed down, which would have meant a reduction of one-half in the output, but this rumor was quickly contradicted by Mr. Haggin.

The negotiations regarding the restriction of production are dragging along in London, where a meeting was held on the 19th, only to be postponed to some unified date.

The London market opened firm after the holidays at 44 1/2 to 45 for spot and 45 1/2 to 46 for futures, but when the meeting of the producers was adjourned without any definite action having been taken, the market became rather flat and prices gave way to 44 1/2 to 45 for spot and 45 1/2 to 46 for three months prompt. According to the cables received the statistical position of copper does not show any change for the first half of this month. Hardly any buying orders have come over from Europe for the past fortnight, which may be explained partly by the fact that values with us are rather higher, and partly by the fact that consumers abroad are well stocked. Besides, consumption in Europe does not appear to be as good as in this country. For manufactured wire we quote: English tough, 4 1/2 to 4 3/4; best selected, 4 1/2 to 4 3/4; strong sheets, 4 1/2 to 4 3/4; India sheets, 4 1/2 to 4 3/4; yellow metal sheets, 5 1/2 to 5 3/4.

PARTY AND PATRONAGE.

Address of George William Curtis Before the Civil Service Reform League.

BALTIMORE, April 28.—George William Curtis addressed a brilliant audience to-night at Lehmann hall, at the opening of the annual meeting of the national committee of the association for reform in the civil service. Charles J. Bonaparte presided. In the course of his speech on "Party and Patronage," Mr. Curtis, commenting upon the two administrations, said:

"Four years ago as the presidential election approached, the league stood in some detail the reasons for its dissatisfaction with the administration of that time. It tested the administration by the simple standard of reform, and all that it could say was that the scope of the classified service had been somewhat enlarged and that the rules and regulations had been revised and improved. It declared that the general party change in the service which had followed the inauguration of the new president was not demanded by the welfare of the service itself, nor by any public advantage whatever, and was due solely to a partisan pressure for partisan objects, which unfortunately the president had not resisted. But it will not be forgotten not only that the party of the president had not demanded reform, but that its controlling sentiment was hostile to it. All that was done under the last administration—and what was done gave the question of reform a place in practical politics which it will not lose until the reform is fully achieved—was done by the president alone. Except for his courage and fidelity to his personal convictions the reform law of 1883 would have been practically nullified, and the reform ignored and discarded. Tried by the standard of absolute reform, he failed as General Grant failed 10 years before, and for the same reason, the hostility of his party. But tested by the actual situation of to-day, notwithstanding the executive yielding to party pressure, the pure flame of reform sentiment not only was not extinguished during the late administration, but burned more brightly in the public mind as the administration ended—burned so brightly, indeed, that the opposition party in the platform upon which they carried the election made the strongest profession of reform faith and purpose that any party ever made."

"The present administration came into power not with the usual vague platitudes upon the subject, but with a definite promise of reform and the distinct pledge to fulfill its pledges. But it celebrated the success of its party with a wild debauch of spoils in which its promise and pledges were the meats and the drinks that were riotously consumed. Nevertheless, the reform law has been as faithfully observed as by its predecessor, and the scope of the reformed service has been greatly enlarged. The secretary of the navy, in the interest of the public, and he could have done his party also no greater service, has introduced the reform into the skilled and unskilled labor system of the navy yards. In his late speech in Rhode Island, a carefully and skillfully prepared defence of the administration and the strongest presentation of its claims to public confidence that probably will be made during the pending campaign, Secretary Tracy says: 'I believe I am justified in saying that so far as its administration is concerned the navy has never been treated so little in the spirit of a party question as it is to-day; the regulations of the department within the last year have eradicated all political considerations from the employment of navy yard labor, and have made that employment dependent alone upon the skill and efficiency of the workmen.'"

"A more signal illustration of the practical progress of reform cannot be found, and when we add to this action of a republican secretary of the navy the fact that a democratic member of the house of representatives has unanimously reported from the committee of which he is chairman of a bill to make the order of the secretary in one department the law in all departments of the government, it is plain that the beneficent flame of reform of which I spoke is in no danger of extinction. The president has also somewhat extended the classified service, and has authorized open voluntary competitions for promotions, while the postmaster general has already adopted the principle of competitive promotion in his department. It is the postoffice department, however, the largest patronage branch of the government, which has been ruthlessly ravaged under this administration by the old abuse. At the same time, again, in the house of representatives bills have been introduced regulating the appointment of old postmasters upon reform principles."

SOME CROOKEDNESS.

Sensational Discoveries in Connection With a Denver Failure.

DENVER, April 28.—A sensational exposure was made during the hearing of an attachment suit against the defunct liquor firm of Boehm & Co., by the First National bank. The firm failed for $250,000. A member of the Mound City Distilling company stated during the trial that Boehm & Co. and Nagle & Brecker, liquor brokers of Chicago, entered into a conspiracy, whereby the former was to purchase through them goods amounting to $4,000,000 and then fail, the Chicago firm to share in the profits. In this way over $500,000 worth have been disposed of in Chicago, Denver and the East. The attachment of the bank was declared void on the ground that discounted paper was not given for a consideration.

ROSTON, April 28.—Union Pacific officials say Clark will soon resign as general manager of the Missouri Pacific with a view of giving his whole time to the Union Pacific.

A Lumberman's Rendezvous.

This term might be applied to Stevens Point, located on the Wisconsin Central line, at the gateway to the vast forest region which extends north to Lake Superior, a distance of 200 miles without a break, on account of its vast lumber industry. The Wisconsin river, to which the lumbermen have given the familiar and somewhat affectionate title of "Old Wisconsin," not alone acts as a lumber feeder to the city by furnishing through numerous tributaries an outlet for thousands of acres of pine in the upper country, but it furnishes a water power that is second to that only of Neenah and Menasha, which cities are also located on the "Central." Millions of feet of lumber are cut every year, giving employment to hundreds of men. In addition to the lumber trade, it has numerous other manufacturing industries. It is here where the large car shops of the Wisconsin Central lines are located.
